THEME:

The theme for 2014 is NURSES: A FORCE FOR CHANGE-A VITAL RESOURCE FOR HEALTH

As the largest health care profession in the world, there is no doubt that nurses are key to the achievement of the Millennium Development Goals. Nurses are often the only health professionals accessible to many people in their lifetime. So nurses are particularly well placed and often the most innovative in reaching underserved and disadvantaged populations.

Nurses are educated to understand the complex nature of maintaining health and wellness, and the impact of psychosocial and socio-economic factors such as poverty, unemployment and ethnicity.

They see the context for wellbeing and accordingly act in way to reach beyond the immediate presenting problems.

Nurses have done much towards the achievement of the MDGs and to help shape and deliver sustainable goals and outcomes beyond 2015. And we can be proud of our achievements. Yet there is still more that we can and must do.

Nurses must engage in advocacy and lobbying. We must be involved in the development of any programme introduced to improve health services as it is nurses who have the practical knowledge of how health service delivery can be designed, coordinated and effectively implemented.

National nurses associations (NNAs) have an important role to play in informing, advising, encouraging and supporting nurses in their work. NNAs must continue to work with governments and others to strengthen health systems and create the conditions necessary to maximise the contribution of nurses.

Significance of the Day:-

International Nurses' Day is celebrated annually on 12 May, the anniversary of the founder of modern day nursing, Florence Nightingale's birthday. Nursing is the largest health care profession in the world and nurses are the key of achieving the Millennium Development Goals. Nurses are well trained and educated for maintaining the health and wellness of the patients through all the aspects like psychologically socially and etc.

Nurses have deep practical knowledge of delivering best health care services. National Nurses associations play an important role in making nurses well informed, advised, encouraged and supported to deliver better work.

National Nurses associations' works with the governments and non-government organizations to strengthen the health care systems as well as create conditions maximizing the nurses contribution.

It is celebrates with an aim for increasing public awareness about the nursing and nurses contribution towards the health care innovation. Nurses are fast and first point of contacting for health services and innovatively practiced to provide free health check up to the industries indicating their willingness of improving the health of staffs to meet all the local needs to improve the physical, mental and wellbeing of the clients as well as society.

About the theme, 2014:

An educated nurse workforce + a good work environment = high quality care.

This simple, evidence based, equation whether applied at a global or a local level in the health system is fundamental for understanding how to make the best use of the vital resource which is "Nursing".

Now a day, with the technological advancement the rules and roles of nurses are changing frequently according to the situation. To evaluate the changes in roles in terms of their impact would clearly be of value for the nurse workforce particularly at times of challenge and, as in the case of nurse consultant roles, could ensure more effective workforce planning, role development and educational preparation.

New Rules for 21st Century health care:-

- Care is based on continuous healing relationships
- Care is customized according to the patients needs and values

- The patient is the source of control
- Knowledge is shared and information flows freely
- Decision making is evidence based
- Safety is a system property
- Transparency is necessary
- Needs are anticipated
- Waste is continuously decreased
- Cooperation among clinicians is a priority

A well performing workforce is one that works in ways that are responsive, fair and efficient to achieve the best outcomes possible, given available resources and circumstances.
